Lesson 121/22: The Messianic Bloodline & the Slaughter of the Innocents

Dear Members,

This is long as it is two items number 21 and 22 linked as one, as the two subjects are closely linked.

Herod was the King of the Jews appointed by the Romans. The Three Wise Men visited him saying they were looking for a baby that had been born, that the prophecy said would become the new messiah. Herod consulted a magi (a wise man), who confirmed the baby was to be the King of the Jews, so Herod had all the children in Bethlehem under the age of two put to death to make sure no one threatened his crown. The children became known as the "Holy Innocents." An angel warned Joseph and Mary and they fled with their baby to Egypt for safety.

On August 24th 1572 ten thousand French Huguenots (Protestants) gathered in Paris for the wedding of their lord Henry of Navarre to Marguerite de Valois, many of the visitors to Paris were sleeping in the streets with bedding they had with them. The Catholics pounced on them and many thousands of the Huguenots were killed on that night, the event became known as the Massacre de la Saint-Barthèlemy (St. Bartholomew's Day massacre). Many more Huguenots were killed in the countryside over the next few months, as many as 100,000 were thought to have died in total.

Henry of Navarre became king Henry IV of France (1589-1610). He brought religious peace to the country with an edict of religious tolerance called the Edict of Nantes (1598). He was a socialist and he cared for his subjects, which was unusual for French kings, or any king for that matter. He became known as 'le Vert galant' (the green galant) and his nickname was also good king Henry.

During the Tet offensive in the Vietnam War a unit of the US 11th Infantry Brigade, Charlie Company, led by Lieutenant William Calley was ordered to attack the Vietcong at a small village called My Lai (pronounced me lie). The Vietcong had escaped and the soldiers opened fire on the women and children left behind killing 504 of them. It was the action of a very brave helicopter pilot called Hugh Thompson Jr. that saved the few villagers that still remained alive. He landed his helicopter under fire placing it between his own troops and the villagers. The incident was covered up but later it all came out and Lieutenant Calley was convicted and sentenced to life in prison. But a few days later President Nixon released him and later a federal judge was ordered to quash the verdict. None of the other killers at My Lai were ever convicted of any charges.

On March 2003 Bush ordered the bombing of Iraq based on a phony story of weapons of mass destruction that were never found. Aerial photographs of trucks and a small stockpile of aluminium pipes were offered as evidence of the non-existent weapons. And a few vials of government-grade anthrax were later posted to various places in New York, Washington and Florida to “tickle up” the phony threat. The anthrax was later identified to come from a military laboratory under the control of the US Army, a fact which people found to be terribly interesting. The very prestigious British medical journal Lancet, one of the most respected in the world, recently put the deaths in Iraq at 650,00 including American soldiers and a few hundred allied troops and private security personnel. But not all of the deaths are down to the American army as many thousands of people have died as a result of the civil war that broke out under the American occupation. What the final total of the fatalities will be is still unknown. The Americans use depleted uranium in their shells which is rotten karma for their soldiers as well as for the locals, for if even one atom gets in one’s lungs it glows for 300,000 years, and men are already coming back from Iraq sick with nuclear poisoning so the eventual American death toll could be 50,000 or more, over the next decade.

During the Israeli-Hezbollah conflict in July 2006 the Israelis become angered by their lack of progress and their inability to engage the elusive Muslim Hezbollah fighters on the Israeli-Lebanese borders. So they ordered the indiscriminate bombing and slaughter of civilians in Beirut as a punishment against the Lebanese many of which are Muslim. The Israeli bombing of unarmed civilians lasted for over three weeks while Bush and his Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice declined take action to stop the genocide. Lebanese civilian losses were thought to be between 1100-1200 dead with nearly 8,000 injured. Fifty-nine Israeli civilians died in the conflict. Eventually the Israeli army, suffering ever more losses and a lack of progress in Lebanon, retreated back to their territory and a cease-fire was signed on August 14th 2006.

With King Herod you see arrogance and fear, and his hate of possible competition, with the Protestant deaths in France you see the feigned superiority of the Catholics and their hate of competition for the attention of God.

In My Lai and the slaughter in Beirut you see vengeance and racists, ethnic cleansing. And with the attack on Iraq you see the lust for power, greed and money resulting in a hysterical violence. Also Bush said he was told by God to attack Iraq (told by the ghouls more likely), so in this case is we see the cult of the ‘Chosen One’, he or she that thinks they are in direct communication with God, which is a claridad that they believe allowing them to act unilaterally and slaughter at will. These are all sacraments of blood cults driven by a dark pulse from within pushed subliminally by the ghouls. Sacrificing human life is an act of supreme power in the ego’s scale of importance and specialness.

The Hindus are the only religion that survives in the end all other religions are washed away. I often I wondered why the Hindus especially and then I realized they are the only real vegetarian religion. Christian are taught in the Bible that they can slaughter whatever they wish as animals are considered to have no soul, it is said they are a gift from God to be exposed of as we want. None of this is correct and the slaughter of billion of animals to fill the bellies of our perverse consumerism is a crime that will not go unpunished. This is all part of the slaughter of the innocents. As is of course the hunting and killing of animals for sport and all manner of bloodletting and cruelty all the way down to a common blood ritual that we in Britain call the Sunday roast, which is the traditional roast meat served at Sunday lunchtime for those of you from other cultures that are not familiar with the tradition.

Humanity has lived under the control and domination of blood cults since it's very early days of civilization in Sumer, in the Mesopotamian valley. The Sumerians were black magicians and their ideas spread around and human sacrifice or the killing of the sacrificial lamb became normal; one would go to the temple and kill an animal and offer its dead body to God, and that was thought to bring healing and good fortune. Even today children are commonly sacrificed or mutilated by black magic practitioners both male and female in Africa to bring good luck to a new business venture.

The cult of the Chosen One and the spilling of blood are inexorably linked; they are both black magic rituals, one is a dark act of violence and the other is a black magic sentiment, a feeling of divine selection or power. That is why I warn you of the claridad, as that is an evil in the making. It is how the ghouls entice you to their world by offering you specialness and importance. Power over others is demonic and if a bloodlust is mixed with that corporal or psychological power it becomes a vial of etheric poison that in the Morph is seen as bright lime green.

The Catholics are a covert blood cult, they worship the blood of Jesus and they enact the drinking of his blood at the Catholic mass. The Jews are a 'Chosen One' cult as they uphold the idea of their special selection by God and their divine right to annex land and property and they too had all their animal sacrifices at the temple in Jerusalem, ten of thousands of animals were slaughtered each year – rivers of blood.

And the power of the Bush's Redneck Reich in America was also an esoteric blood cult in its silent dominion over others and its state-sponsored violence, torture and cruelty, as is the British army, which essentially fights for the bloodline of the Queen. The rules under which the men go to war are called, "Queen's Rules". It is essentially a feigned racial or ethnic superiority mixed with guns, bombs, hate and greed.

Hitler's Reich was a very sophisticated, very esoteric blood cult and so was the violence and arrogance of the Christian, Francisco Pizarro who with his men killed millions of Inca natives in South America capturing what is now Peru (1535 A.D). And the Hutu tribes were in a strange occult blood ritual when they slaughtered five hundred thousand to a million Tutsis in the eight weeks from April 6th to July 15th 1994 in Rwanda. The domination and influence of blood cults is still with us today, but the occult control of the world is hidden for the most part, but it is everywhere and very nasty. It is in the secret societies like P2 and the Masons, or the Trilateral Commission and the Council of Foreign Affairs, Bohemian Grove or the Jesuits. It's a power that stems in part from the control of money like the Federal Reserve, or the IMF and the World Bank – the Devil's bankers. It is also seen in the cruelty of big business that enslaves millions to stitch clothes for Walmart for a few dollars a day.

Remember, superiority, control and blood cults are linked and that sacrament pervades our society at the common level as a bloodlust: street gangs, drive-by shootings, suicide bombers, snipers, abductions, serial killers, S&M, rape, torture, slavery, stalking, and entrapment. At the higher political level it is capital punishment; and the state-sponsored assassinations of the CIA, FSB (formerly the KGB), MI5, MOSSAD etc, all things that happen still to this very day.

AIDS as you know is a man-made disease, it did not exist in nature and it was manufactured and developed by humans and then it was introduced into the gay population and Africans under the guise of a vaccine. It was a premeditated attack of the elite bloodline of white Christian heterosexual males on what was seen as unclean blood, be it gay blood or black African blood. So it became another part of the black sacrament. That sacrament is deep inside humanity as the silent desire for power over others expressed as snobbery or a silent hate and the yearning to snuff out the life of another, or an animal, or even an insect, as an expression of supreme power in which one seeks to prolong the length of one's own life. It is the same as the ancient Mayans who were a truly disgusting people; they would throw young women (thousands of them) off a cliff in the hope of bettering themselves and pleasing their devilish gods. People think the Mayans were very spiritual and wise but in fact it is all backwards and they were an abomination of the black arts and the remnants of their heritage is now in the Mexicans and so not much has changed since the Mayans fell in the 8th and 9th centuries.

Over four hundred young girls have been ritually raped and burnt or shot in the last few years in Juarez, Mexico, as a blood sacrifice and that is allowed and protected by the highest echelons of the Mexican government and the local police.

The UFOs and the bloodline of the native people of Central America are usually of the same Reich, the Fifth the hidden Reich. That is why alien abductions occurs only to people of Native blood, it is a form of transdimensional study of the development of those lines; lines that the ghouls won control over a thousand years ago or more. That is why Mexico is the world center for UFO sightings.

The insanity of the bloodlust is driven from within tapping into the reservoir of an unresolved shadow pulse of humanity and that of itself is evidence of the secret, mass abduction of humans by the ghouls, a buried evil in the shadow like the callous mentality of the women calmly knitting at the foot of the guillotine at the time of the French Revolution, or the Khmer Rouge that killed one million or more Cambodians under the psychopath Pol Pot (1975-1979).

The British aristocracies blue blood is based on the idea they have different blood because they are descendants of killers and white slave traders that were granted knighthoods or peerages by the kings and queens of yesteryear. So today's lords and dukes and earls are often the great, great, grandchildren of white supremacists killers close to the demonic bloodlines of the kings and queens of England or France say, earlier in history.

The fascination of the elite with preserving the bloodlines of their families in the global power structure is well documented by David Icke. Bush is closely related to the Queen via the bloodline of his mother. Icke says these are reptilian bloodlines and that members of the royal bloodline can shape-shift from their human form into a reptilian form.

I know Icke quite well I once spent four days talking to him and his wife in Ireland. He is isolated and he has no interest in what other researchers know. So for example, in 1991 he began telling people the planet was a spirit and that it had a soul. He made it seem as if he discovered that fact completely unaware that Professor Lovelock wrote out the theory of Gaia in the 1970s. So Icke has his ludicrous side. I suggested he do Aya' as he was too scared to do mushrooms, so off he went and after one single Aya' journey he came back and announced that Aya' had told him to tell the world that everything is love. Nice one David!

But aside from his pomposities and self-obsession his discovery of the reptiles and the humans that shape-shift is essentially very accurate. You may remember how I wrote a story once of a buggy-eyed Grey that appeared in my office, which at that time was in Notting Hill Gate, London. It was mid- afternoon. I dove with the force of my will (attention) into and through the eye of the Grey and behind it was a reptile being of seriously scary proportions. Over the building was a silver UFO, circular and twenty-five feet across. It was very low down over the houses at a height of five hundred feet or even less; it swayed a bit like a leaf in the wind. It stayed for a few minutes while I gave it the Sicilian salute (va fa'un culo) and the middle finger salutation American-style, and then it flew very slowly over the buildings of Campden Hill Road, towards Holland Park.

So the reptiles are behind the Greys as their controllers and the Greys seem to act as the anal drones for the desires of the reptiles. They are obsessed with blood and reproduction as they seek to engineer their own species of humans, one under their control, rather than have to just abduct humans etherically or mentally. So essentially the reptiles seek to form or develop a humanoid that will act as a drone like the Greys, which must have been developed as beings by the reptiles. Humans have an immortality in their consciousness, and the reptiles seek the warmth of human blood and the immortality of the human soul.

The reptiles will fail in their quest. Early on I found Icke's shape-shifting theory a bit beyond me, though I had seen the reptile behind the Grey in London so I didn't dismiss Icke entirely. Then in November 2005 I saw a woman that was very evil shape-shift in front of my eyes over period of a few minutes. I was behind her about five or six yards away but somehow she knew I was watching, and once she was in her reptilian form complete with a zigzag spine, snout and sharp teeth she turned and smiled at me. Later she came and told me she was in love with me but I knew that was a bit of entrapment and so I smiled politely and fled.

I don't know if the British royals are reptiles or not. But Icke's idea of humans from another evolution, here on earth, a reptilian race if you like, seems to me to be 100% correct. The black magic circles in the European aristocracy and the abduction and torture of children are well documented by brave writers that have attempted to expose them as it is normally hidden under the carpet. I have been told by someone that went there that there is a satanic chapel in the basement of a fine house on an estate vineyard where they perform rituals to the blood of the virgin, which is juxtaposed as the new wine.

There are powerful black magicians in the Catholic Church and I've written about the Green Cardinal that runs the Vatican coterie of evil and the Black Masses. He is very powerful some say he is the most powerful black magician in the world. I watched him for an hour once in the Aluna. He was about thirty yards away watching me. I was on the edge of a jungle at the time he was in the trees, but he never came any closer so we didn't get to exchange pleasantries, business cards, or email addresses and so forth. Shame, he was too crafty to get too close – credit where credit is due. Later in the Aluna I saw a great fighter that I know well, she was outside the Vatican in Rome disguised as a bag lady covered with a shawl. She was so well disguised I didn't recognize her at first but then she surreptitiously showed me a little pouch that was hidden in her clothes and I recognized the pouch I'd seen it before.

The black magic of the church won't fall until the Vatican is attacked and brought down by the horsemen of Gaia and beings like the fighter I saw at the doors of the church. The atrocities of the church are being exposed but the innocents will have to wait, for no power on earth can bring the church down, not now anyway. They have two thousand years of the satanic, messianic blood to protect them.

But the Vatican is destroyed in the end and burnt to a crisp and as the messianic blood is spilt from the chalice of its lime green power and it falls, and the paedophiles and black magicians will be scattered to the winds to hide in caves as imps so they might regain their lost power and return as humans a thousand years from now. Other aristocrats in Belgium have become notorious for black magic ceremonies and human sacrifice and of course the massive paedophilia scandals in Belgium amongst high-up politicians have been running for years now. Myself and others around me have been up against closet neo-Nazis in Belgium for a number of years now. Remember, Never go to Belgium if you can avoid it. It is truly one of the nastiest most demonic countries in the world.

I fancied having a go at one of the Belgium aristocrats, I thought to get in posing as a follower of the black arts or even via the Aluna but an insider warned me off the idea, as the caper is too dangerous. We were threatened with death if we approached. These are fortresses of occult power that are impenetrable. Much is made of the followers of Crowley that seem to have a small but powerful base in Scotland and a following amongst upper crust heroin users in London. They conjure up little beings that are two-foot tall and slight podgy looking, dwarf-like entities that are very ugly to look at.

They seem to run around at high speed but I am not sure what they do. Maybe they are sent to attack the enemies of Crowley's followers. Crowley people smell strange, that is how you tell. It is a quite an acrid odor, yet there is a strange richness to it, like an exotic eastern perfume mixed with dry urine. Led Zeppelin took over Crowley's house in Scotland and for a while it became fashionable to say one was into the band and Crowley. I think the movement has gone underground or waned a bit as I've not heard of it for a while. Jimmy Page and that lot are old age pensioners now.

The worship of peoples supposedly special blood, the spilling of blood in capital punishment, the Aryan blood, or the Ku Klux Klan, the racism of Australians – white blood and the White Australia Policy are all part of the mix and then there is the power of the Jews that own the Federal Reserve – running through the veins of the global economy. It all fuels blood hate of people like the Zionists that think they are chosen or different, or like the hatred of the Chinese for people of foreign blood, or the hate of the Turks for Greek blood and vice versa. The two will go to war eventually. The power of the blood hate goes right inside our families that fight amongst themselves for domination, inheritance and control, and then there is the hate each has for other humans; the black attention we offer passing strangers. We live inside a black magic cult that is six billion or more strong.

When do you ever meet a human that is not silently or overtly superior, or that is not under the delusion of being of special blood, not often? Then the Native people of America have their bloodletting and blood brother ceremonies, as an expression of their blood. The Cherokee people recently voted to revoke tribal citizenship of descendents of black slaves that were owned by the Cherokees. The assumption is that Cherokee blood is better and more pure than African-American blood. Then there is Black power and the power of Maori blood and so forth.

Hitler greatly admired the British aristocracy, he was friends with the King Edward who married Mrs. Simpson and then abdicated. The king and his wife fled to the Bahamas where they stayed safe during the whole war. There Edward passed the time doing money laundering for rich people in Britain that were scared of a German victory in the war that wanted to flee into dollars.

The occult nature of the Nazis is well documented and the best book I ever read was Trevor Ravenscroft's, "The Spear of Destiny" It's a 'must' read if you have not read it before. I knew Trevor and I bought the film rights to the book, the problem was our Trev' sold the film rights to a dozen people or more near the end of his life, so the entitlement means nothing.

Hitler thought that he was divinely selected and he had a vision at site of the spear in Austria and it was then, according to Ravenscroft, that he chose to take the dark path rather than the path of light. Hitler proceeded with the help of the Schutzstaffel (SS) and their underlings the Gestapo to try to rub out two other blood cults in the Jews and the Catholics, and he also tried to rub out the bloodline of gays and the mentally deficient, or people that were born deformed. Later he tried to get rid of one more blood cult in the form of the American army that fought for the industrial-military complex of the New World. So the Second World War descended into a fight between various blood cults for the control of Europe.

The Russians were Christians so they worshiped the messianic blood, as do the Catholics. The fight between blood cults continues today between the Muslims and the Jewish-American alliance, and of course the British crown, and in addition it is seen as a global domination in the way America controls global wealth and consumption leaving ethnic races of the world to fend for themselves in abject poverty for the most part.

So the slaughter of the innocent will continue yet a while and every death is a nail in the coffin of the soul of our humanity for we are all collectively part of the crime for we have all been in the superiority of it even if not in the actual deeds.

Look at the New Age for example, where people believe they have such a special energy and that they are so elevated because of whatever system they joined. Elitism is everywhere.

You might remember I wrote about the dimension of the Lords of Cruelty, which is approximately west of you (when facing north) and down through the floor at 17 degrees. As you enter it closes in around you and it holds you not letting you go, and the power of the global blood lust is the same.

The mindset of the ritual calls to you and traps you and billions of humans are already ensnared by the Lords of Cruelty, they will never get out. They can't see it yet but a great terror waits for them to die. It's the power of the Empire of the Snake and the Hiss of the Snake – the media – that will lock everyone into the final sacrament.

And of course power is an addictive drug to those that are offered it, those that fall for the ploy. You will see the power of the Snake and the Aryan blood and their Zionist allies now in their full glory, as the oil wobbly goes and markets collapse and the fascists take over the world.

The father of Bush built many internment camps in America in the late 80s disguised as unused golf courses. They are still there; you can Google them on the Internet and drive over and have a look. There are guards and towers at the gate so there not much to see but the addresses are known. And Bush Jnr. has given Halliburton four hundred million to build some more.

And rail cars have been ordered and stored in sidings for the big day. They are fitted with shackles for prisoners. That really scared people when the news of it first came out.

Evidence of the blood cult mentality are not just the killings and deaths it is also any extreme power over humans be it street gangs, or S&M and various sexual deviation, brothels, gay bathhouses say, or abduction, torture, internment camps, rendition, control by techno-fascism, the Police State, swinging legislation, crippling taxes, and/or the lock-down of humanity generally. Remember black magic and worship of special blood are linked to pedophilia and sexual rituals and porno' is a distant cousin. It is rampant worldwide. Two thousand seven hundred pedophiles were trapped in one sting in Austria, a country that has strong Nazi sympathies to this very day.

So the power of the blood magic is everywhere and pedophilia is part of the ceremony and fascism or the extreme right is its political wing. This is because the right wing is exclusive and superior rather than communal and egalitarian. The Jews especially the Zionists believe that they have special blood but DNA tests show they have the same DNA as the Palestinians, who they hate and consider of inferior descent, quirky eh? The university professor that discovered that DNA link got tossed out of his job. He showed that is only those Jews that came from central Europe or Russia are different and they have a DNA that is linked to Jews and non-Jews of those regions. And the special blood of the Jews and the messianic blood are linked. As the crucifixion of Jesus was thought to be an occult capture of the would- be liberator by the powers of the Jewish temple, the Pharisees and members of the Jewish hierarchy, as they are the ones that sacrificed Jesus and had him put to death. The messiah is the phony “Chosen One” and the people that killed him are ever so slightly more chosen as they rubbed him out, or so the thinking goes anyway. So that is the link.

So we are now entering into the last spit of the snake for in the end the snake has to die to free the planet of the ghouls by removing the humans that act as their slaves and their source of etheric food, and by loosening the grip that those ghoul-abducted humans in power have over ordinary people, an abduction that forms and sustains the secret Empire of the Snake.

In the end only the egalitarian soul of humanity remains and that egalitarian soul has to be ghoul-free. To be free of it you have to drop blood cult sentiments in your life, so that you change your etheric from a possessed drone of the ghouls to a free man or a free woman. The evidence of the possession is repressed anger, emotional outburst, control trips, power trips, self-importance, spiritual claridads, sexual superiority and any delusion about your blood or your people or your nation. In spirituality we have no nations just the brotherhood and sisterhood of our humanity. And banish any sentiments of violent thoughts that call for vengeance, I’ve said before “an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth” is an item on the menu of the ghouls’ banquet. It is not allowed, you have to love and forgive your tormentors or you become like them.

It is hard to see the occult nature of life until you can see the Morph and it lights it all up for you, and then you can watch energy going back and forth and the first time you look up and see 60-100 UFOs overhead then you will know. There is an ever-present occult air force of extreme evil above us. And other ghouls are walking about amongst us at street level and millions if not billions of humans are on the ghouls’ side, so this is a karmic prison we find ourselves in.

The blood cult mentality is a form of mind control and but it is also an etheric imprint that is laid upon you by your schooling and your parents, you were taught how to be trapped. And those sentiments also taught you how to be cruel towards humans and animals. It taught you how to yearn for money, power and importance, and how to belong to the ghouls. That is how the ghouls made a global congregation for their black sacrament, trapping people etherically while their human vassals controlled money, information, legislation and vast armies. From that etheric bind flow a host of secret and not so secret committees of control. The best way to understand it is to equate the blood cult mentality with etheric energy suckers, the predators and vampires of this world, and then you see it is all around you. In the end we serve our chances best by retreat, for we will never have the power to change the blood cult domination of this world; we can't fix anything, so we must not be frustrated by that inability. Only Gaia can fix it with an asteroid on the White House, or the collapse and arrest of the Queen, or the destruction of Islam and Israel and the demise of the Jews at the Federal Reserve.

We have no power so we must wait and watch and work on ourselves in the meantime. Gradually we learn to detach from the sacrilege of the black sacrament, and soon you will not want to watch horror films and those cold case documentaries that deal with corpses and unsolved murders, and/or have a fascination with the news from the war zones, or ugly films and books and porno' that titillate a bloodlust in you. And just as the ghouls attempt to surreptitiously abduct a human's mind and soul, you are not allowed to abduct another human, be it emotionally or by exercising an undue control over them, like terrorizing employees, or using a partner as a sex slave, or bleeding people for financial gain, or tormenting a relative emotionally, and so forth.

Steiner the Austrian mystic divided the devilish entities into two categories Luciferian and Aramaic. He said that evil has to have motion or energy attached for it to become real and that energy in motion is the Luciferian force, and the Aramaic force is the embodiment of evil, its physical form, so a torture prison like Auschwitz for example and the institutions that control humanity.

But there is third component, the black attention, which is not energy in motion or a physical form of evil but more a collective ill-will like a black magic curse expressed silently.

So it is a trinity in my way of thinking. In Revelation the innocent martyrs are under the altar of God and they ask for judgment and vengeance from God against those that killed them, and they are told to don white garments and to rest 'for a season' so that their fellow brethren that should also be killed as martyrs can have those acts fulfilled. It made me wonder about the karma of the innocents, are they paying for some past crime in a previous life, or do they agree to die to indict the evil ones that kill them? It might be both reasons. Would it not be strange if the innocents know they are going to die and they agree to it deep within as the ultimate sacrifice, so as to trap the souls of their killers and carry them off to hell? It is such an interesting idea as it is so backwards as many things are; if so, the bomber pilot that kills and burns people from above is in turn trapped and spiritually burned in a karmic way by the children he napalms in the villages below.

For example, Diana the Princess of Wales on her wedding day referred to herself as "a lamb to slaughter" and she did so years before she died. So maybe her inner-self knew and maybe she came to earth as a child as an act of sacrifice to take down and destroy the Queen and the House of Windsor, and the whole rotten deck of cards. So Diana went through the pain of losing her life and her children as a kamikaze act to bring down a nasty blood cult that has dominated the British people for over a thousand years. So maybe she came deliberately to carry them and the ghouls attached to them back to hell and to rid the world of the evil of them for a while anyway. She was brave.

Justice and injustice is mystery and there is nothing in the Morph about reincarnation to help us in anyway, so the explanation of terrible deeds that are suffered as karma from another age might be accurate or inaccurate, and then perhaps the explanation of reincarnation is far beyond what we can comprehend and that is why it is never explained, either in the Morph or in the Aya' temples. Some of it might be like the sacrificial lives of Diana or Gandhi or Martin Luther King. Blood lust is a long rope handed down from generation to generation. It could be like the rope of greed, which is also long. The first yard or so of greed is invisible as no one admits to their greed and then it goes a long way in from there with dishonesty, cheating, overcharging, money grabbing, stock fiddles, price manipulations, shoplifting and so forth...arriving at disdain, arrogance and the predator's instinct and landing eventually at pure hatred for humanity. And the lust of blood cults are massacres of various kinds and torture, slavery, control, false imprisonment, the cult of the Chosen One, royalty, blue bloods, arrogance, snobbery, elitism, egoism and sexual rituals, all the way to a callous indifference for animals and the Sunday roast, and the idea that others should pay to sustain your lifestyle, which is another form of blood sucking entitlement.

The final knot on the blood lust rope is a hidden cruelty and a terrible disregard for the dignity and wellbeing of humans and other living beings. It is a hidden black magic, so try to avoid it or it will rot your soul.

Meanwhile we can't really do much to save the innocent ones and one's admiration must go out to the courage of those that risk their lives for justice, civil rights lawyers in China, gay activists in Muslim countries, and those that fight for women's rights in Afghanistan, and of course Aung San Sui Kyi in Burma whose only crime has been that she won a general election there many years ago.

There are many heroes we never hear about like the hundreds of journalists that die every year exposing the corruption and lies of the status quo. The death toll of the innocents through history must come to many hundreds of millions of people or more. They were all brave and they were sacrificial lambs whether they knew it before they died or not. But sad as it is we have no power, so all we can do is pray that our leaders become less demonic, and we should breathe love on them and we must pray for the souls of the departed and admire them. If we do that we have done all that can be expected of us given that we have no other choice for the moment.

Because of all the visions in the Morph I came to trust in Gaia, and I know it will all come good in the end, even if I don't live to see it. Beings of a greater authority from another realm have to arrive here to settle things for humanity so that we can rise to a new level. Meanwhile, the innocents will have to wait under the altar of God a little longer.

What I found interesting in Revelation is that when the innocents ask for vengeance against their killers God doesn't react saying "Yes, sure, I'll murder the lot of them for you," instead they are instructed to wait a little longer for more of the innocents to be killed. In other words, the slaughter is not over and the final count has not been determined. There is an ominous feeling that the real mess of everyone's karma coming home to roost is up ahead of us for as the ego dies people may become demented by the loss of financial well-being and importance.

And if the Morph hots up and people can suddenly see their evil externalized hovering in front of them at the kitchen table then the funny farm will be bulging at the seams. The main thing is that you don't get surreptitiously sucked into the evil of it all through a naivety and lack of perception and that you disengage from the blood cult mentality and power trips and you learn to see it all around you so you can take evasive action. The perception here is to realize humanity is in a black sacrament that television pretends is normal and so everyone gets to play out their various roles in full before the ceremony is allowed to be over. This is because humanity has to incriminate itself before it eventually see itself puss and all, and it realizes its darkness, then a solution can descend and fix things. It is part of our spiritual learning and watching the power cults drink the tainted blood of their evil is one part of the great banquet. Their collapse is sudden and brutal, and the doors close in flash, trapping the global-ego in its desires and evil, and while the final phase maybe the death rattle of our humanity maybe something else happens. It could be that all the cold humans don't die they might dematerialize into the next dimension to greet their lords and captors. Anything is possible in the Morph, we can't say, as we don't know yet and the Morph has only showed us one tenth of one percent of the total story, maybe not even that. But the great and mighty have to be seen to fall and they have to be seen as evil and helpless and powerless in the face of a superior force and then when that time comes to pass the lesson is over. It is not long now.

So the path we follow is marked "out" and we qualify to get on the bus through humility, tenderness and the warmth we express for humans and the animal kingdoms, and that is what takes you the other way. That is how your etheric is cleansed of the demonic imprint you were given in childhood that I spoke of before. And isn't it a quirky thing you jumped at the last minute in the nick of time before you were overwhelmed? And isn't it a blessing a door opened next to you just as you heard the storm troopers tromping up the street? And didn't it bring you to tears to find so many loving beings over there through the door waiting for you to arrive? And wasn't it brave of you to offer to come back when you didn't have to? And the way you slipped through the night hither and thither was very stealth-like and brave, and wasn't it a great blessing for those few humans that you found amongst the rubble of the carnage that you carried home? Yes, indeed, these many things and more.

Remember, as spiritual beings we act as the pall-bearers of humanity, standing at one side in silence as innocuous servants waiting for people to faint into our arms and we wait for the lords and masters to fall face down on the banquet table of their indifference and hate, and once they do that you will know it is time, time perhaps to step forward and kiss them gently on the forehead and carry them to the gates of hell. You'll find work, if you qualify yourself and make it through.

Trust me on that.
