

Lesson 25: The Ghouls and Their Origins

An RC member asked me the origin of the ghouls on the board but I ducked the question and talked of other things, as it is very complicated. But I realized I was wrong and that I should write it all out as I know it so far, as many members need the information and as many are advanced enough now to handle things in a more mature way here is the total story we know so far.

First, to understand the shadow process and the presence of the ghouls is a great privilege for it is part of how we eventually straddled across a transdimensional threshold. Ten thousand years have passed and no one knew very much of these things and billions have lived and died with no idea about the dark forces or how they were set back by them. And while the ghouls sometimes give us fright, or they challenge us psychically, it is better in my view to know what is what than to be ignorant, blind, and a victim of them.

The study of the ghouls seems to have been one of the things I focused on over the last eight or nine years as I was plunged in there in 2001 when I found myself attacked day and night for three years. It was lessons on the hurry up for myself and a partner I travelled with during those years that we came to call "The Ghoul Wars."

To really know the origin of the ghouls we would have to know the origins of the beings that are with the light, the mini-gods that act as our helpers at times. I would be enormously surprised if they were not older than the Universe, so it could be the ghouls are also older than the Universe. In the macrocosm of light and dark when talking about time frames longer than the life of the Universe, one can never know exactly what is right or not.

But in the microcosm of your subjective experiences added to the experience of people like myself, and the Aya' shamans and tales posted on the RC site say, and your personal visions, we can in an anthropological way deduce things working backward in time and watching and guessing what might have happened.

At the beginning of our Universe was a mixture of positive and negatively charged particles and they collided with each other at high speed for a long time and they annihilated each other. If there had been an exact numerical balance of each 50:50 there would be no Universe, but there existed in the inherent mathematics of the Universe one more positive particle in every billion particles than the negative ones. So periodically one positive particle found no other particle to annihilate it and so it survived. And the stars and galaxies and us and trees and so forth, are made up of the one-in-a-billion survivor particles. This is a positively charged Universe.

It could be there is the same percentage of light beings as positive particles and that the dark forces are almost equal in power and number but not quite. The problem we face when speculating is that we know lots about the ghouls but very little about the mini-gods and spirit beings of the light. The ghouls are here on earth or close to the earth, and some stuck are in the astral, the mini-gods and the Light of Lights are far away.

The Bible says there was a fight between Michael the archangel and Lucifer and his forces, and that the dark forces lost and fell to earth. It is a simplistic explanation but circumstances down here seem to back the idea that we are in a Luciferian domain not a celestial one. Of course, we have no evidence that this was the result of a war in another dimension but the devilish forces are a fact of life on earth. It is way worse than people know, as the dark forces are clever at hiding. If you have not processed your shadow and looked deep within you will never see the ghouls and you will have the impression all is more or less fine and dandy on earth. Tee hee.

We can see quite obviously that the human mind or the human condition if you like, is the origin of some of the ghouls because many of the ghouls look like degraded humans, boney and malnourished and they have dark thoughts and sentiments akin to ours. Then there are others that are not human at all that are digital-fractal geometries boxes and squares that are joined by little tubes and strange antennas. But let's start with the more-or-less human looking ones.

The Degraded Humans-like Ghouls

Gollums

The Gollums are short and thin and bony and about three feet all. They are just skin, no clothes, or hair or genitals. They have a slightly oversized head and buggy eyes and long bony arms. Their skin color is very sick-looking grey. I named them Gollums because they are almost exactly like Gollum from the Lord of the Rings. They are not good news. Luckily they are rare. They are precursors to ugly events.

I was staying on the seventh floor of an apartment building near a bridge. At midnight I saw a vision of a Gollum down in the parking lot below the building trying to get through a fence into an empty lot. I got up and penned the area with a powerful backlight I have that has a range of two miles or more. When I penned the fence I got the impression the Gollum had gotten away as it took me time to get out of bed, find the pen, and get to the kitchen window and shine the light across the street and below me at the fence.

The bridge by the block of apartments is higher than the apartment building I was in; the bridge stands 130-140 feet off the road and it crosses an estuary. At 7.05 am a man jumped from the steel bridge and landed in front of my kitchen window not twenty yards from where I saw the Gollum just seven hours before. The man lay on the ground dead in a small pool of blood with the finger and thumb of his left hand touching together like the way some Eastern people meditate. He looked very peaceful. I paid my respects and said a prayer. He was forty-five and dressed normally, not a street person, or a drug addict. I wasn't sure if the Gollum created the jumper in some way, or if it just showed up to witness the jump. It was very coincidentally that the Gollum and the jumper were almost exactly at the same spot. The Gollum's make you depressed when they show up. They are birthed from Gollum mothers that are the size of a small house, they can birth one million a year.

The Raccoon People

The raccoon people are just under normal human height, they wear human clothes and live in the forest and they have very dark rings around their eyes, like heavy drinkers that have liver fatigue. I got a fright the first time I saw one. I was parked on a dirt road by a stream next to forest outside a Swiss village. There, I looked to my right through the car window and a raccoon person had her nose against the glass. Eek!

They are humans that dropped out of the reincarnation cycle that are now degraded, cold and evil. The raccoon people have a little lime green ball smaller than a tennis ball but bigger than a golf ball. It is a form of etheric poison and they drop them through the letterboxes of people's houses. They may have other tricks but the green ball is the only one I know about. They are vindictive beings that lost their grace and warmth.

The Parka People

There is a small entity that lives round wood piles that I call the Parka people. They are about three and a half feet tall and they look like they have jackets on with hoods, hence the Parka people. They always move in groups of eight-to-ten of them, they have childlike airs, so I reckon they are evil children that never got out of here. They don't seem to cause real harm but we learned to stay away from large wood piles, or logs that are stacked for shipment.

The Nutters

The Nutters are humans that got trapped here that were/are not right in their minds. When I was in the Aya' temple in Brazil I saw about half a dozen of them. They look almost like normal humans except there is insanity in their eyes. They need to belong and they come around hoping to be useful or to learn something.

In Brazil, I saw one of the nutters trying to make herself useful cleaning the Aya' Temple by rubbing the wall with a brick. Mad. She was a very large woman with a ghastly floral dress on that hung straight down from her armpits. Her face was slightly deformed and she had the stupidest supercilious grin that said, see how useful I am.

Another nutter appeared in the garden around the Aya fire pit all dressed in cricket whites, bat, pad and cap. He was slightly bent over a coconut as if to hit it and score runs. He also has slightly deformed features.

And there a young man with bony features with long hippy hair just standing motionless gazing in the distance, and a young women came through moving quickly, she looked like a rainbow-people, New Age type, she had big bag with plastic flowers stuck on it but her eyes were completely mad. Insanity forms a massive dimension of itself and while most of the entities (nutters) are possessed humans that would be labelled criminally insane here, the dimension also includes beings that have been mistreated, there are children in there that have very large pumpkin heads, they are very loving but very damaged as well.

Listlessness, laziness and apathy are a mild form of insanity and that is like the bony boy staring into the distance. Fascism and control are also from of insanity and in those mad worlds you see Nazi officer barking orders, or men in dark coats that look like the character Mephistopheles. Some of the insane are in a dimension of their own but some are down here on earth playing cricket with a coconut! The nutters all seem to show symptoms of a repetitive compulsive disorder.

The Mephisto

Originally the Mephisto was the devil or demon the came from the Faustian legend in literature. We see him in the Aluna as male in a black coat, he is often very tall anywhere from eight feet to forty feet high; he's very evil and very tricky, he'll play to your lust for power if you are prepared to sell your soul and fall for it.

The Astral Entities

The Astral entities are humans that never made it out after death. At the very cold and damp end of the spectrum are ghosts that haunt old houses that believe they are still alive. In an old hotel in Ireland I watched as a woman phantom dressed in Victorian clothes pass through a cupboard and then through the wall out into the hallway. She would have been in the building a hundred years or more.

Then there was one very emancipated chap I saw wearing striped prison clothing like those worn by the Jews in Auschwitz. He was walking along the sidewalk at Battery Park in New York. He would have gotten there from Germany or Poland where he probably died because of a relative or friend that lived in New York, or by following Auschwitz survivors over to America. He was very scary-looking because he was so trapped in his Jewish prisoner identity. He liked it, he felt proud of it, and that is why he wore the prison clothes. He walked right through a group of tourist on the sidewalk as if they were not there.

My ol' teacher said that when there is a cataclysm and all the humans are wiped out and the world is renewed all the astral entities, ghosts and demonic attachments are washed away into the dark spirit worlds and the world is left clean. Eventually the man in Battery Park will degrade even further and become a Gollum type, carrying a vengeance against humanity for the crime committed against him.

Black Imps, Jinn and Dwarfs

There are black imps that look like the Gollums but they are taller four-to-five feet tall, and more elegant and faster and more agile, the Gollums don't move very fast. We know the imps incubate in pods that look like large black avocados that have hairy skins. They hang down from the ceiling on what looks like a piece of string. The imps are very much larger than the pods they are incubated in. They control various devil worlds and so there are imp connected to pornography and the dark side of the Internet, black magic and blood rituals.

We know little about how the imps move or what their range is, but we do know they are here 'on the ground' so to speak and in the devil dimensions. They are incubated from the need to control, especially when that controlling urge becomes obsessive and demonic, so sexual control, the threat of physical violence, emotional manipulation, financial greed and so forth. In part the imps are fueled by a power lust the lust to own, control and destroy.

The Jinn are particular to the Middle East, especially Egypt they are beings of a human appearance that are pulled in and sustained by a magician for his or her dark purposes, like the story of Aladdin and his lamp. They are usually concocted or called in via incantations, the use of old Egyptian magic, and the power of homosexual sex act.

When men and women make love and if they orgasm the energy travels to a higher use but with men copulating the energy is trapped and it hangs around, unless there is much love and respect. Magicians in the Middle East knew of this trapped energy and how it could be claimed and used to sustain their creations, like the Jinn.

Much of the power of the Catholic Church is sustained by the same power source and it is used to advance the church's agenda of control and abuse and a callous disdain for followers and parishioners. Some say the Jinn are connected to the spirits of the dead and that may well be so, or the Jinn are essentially the spirits of those humans that are in twilight worlds, the living dead.

Humans that are demonically possessed, grey and evil, and yet still alive pretending to be normal. The area around the pyramids at Giza is the world's capital for earth bound spirits.

The Pharaohs and their empires were extremely evil. They were cruel slavers and back magicians, and they had their blood ceremonies and human sacrifice. And the mummification of human bodies came from their desire for immortality, which you may already know is a ghoul trait.

The power of Egyptian magic and the Jinn is immense even today and there are many entities that are Jinn-like, that often dress in leather and fur and look like Mongol warriors, which is where all magic developed from originally. They all called in through warped sexuality and the desire to control or own another sexually, and/or to use them as a slave. The warrior-Jinn types are very hard to shift and they usually come in threes. They are attracted to rape and sodomy where one partner is not willing, homosexual rape.

Caribbean magic voodoo came from Africa it is very Jinn-like and that ritual calls in the astral beings and it creates the human in a trance-like state, open to temporary demonic possession or long term possession. There are many forms of African magic like Juju in West Africa and they would all have their roots in the Egyptian rituals and the conjuring of astral helpers like the Jinn. And South African magic uses the mutilation and sacrificial death of children so it is even nastier than the rest, none of which is very nice at all.

Your protection against these conjured forces is to stay away from the people that conjure them and the places and ceremonies where they might be evoked. Hitler had a spirit medium that would emit ectoplasm from her vagina and Jinn-style beings would be birthed in the room. Obviously, if you are at a seance and a lady is firing stuff out of her private parts you'll know it is time to head to the pub instead.

The Dwarfs

The dwarfs are very strange, they are short and they appear wearing jerkins and baggy pants and they walk very fast, they always look very busy. They are connected to the woods, of course, but I am not sure how bad they really are, I've never had a problem but like all transdimensional beings one doesn't want to call them in, as there is much we don't know of them or their power. But they must be degraded humans going backward in their evolution, as they are stunted, very stocky and short. They are very rare to see.

UFOs, Reptilians, Greys

I'll not talk much about these beings, as I have written about them a lot on the internet pages. The Greys are like the imps that are incubated in a pod except the pod of the Greys is the UFO, which is a being of itself that can shape-shift and move very fast. The inside of the UFO is very big compared to the outside like the imp-pod is. The UFO can enter the 90 degree world so that is why they can seem to blip out of the sky suddenly. The UFOs are sometimes the classic saucer shape, or they can be brown blobs, or flying sticks and/or barrels that look like flying oil barrels.

The masters of the Grey are the reptilians and they are like dinosaurs and very nasty. How they arrived at a consciousness that can control the world as they do is beyond my ken. They are part human in that they attempt to possess humans and they attempt live life through human bodies. The shape-shifting reptilian human is real. The reptilians are old and so maybe they got their power over eons. Some say they come from the remains of the human reptilian brain, I don't know if that is correct or not. The power of the reptilians is political-military, they are inside the mind of powerful humans that own and control the world.

The UFOs are more time-dated as they take on forms that are current, so in Victorian times they appeared as hot air balloons and later in the 1930s as dirigibles. Then saucers appeared after the Germans experimented with aircraft of that shape in the 1940s, and later the UFOs began to mimic the stealth bomber, and become triangular and dark in color and shape. So the shape-shift look of them has progressed through the ages. This tells you they are not alien spacecraft from other galaxies.

And if they try to sell you on the idea that you have been chosen to deliver an important message for humanity give them the middle finger salute. The trick to getting rid of these pests is stand your ground and ridicule them, and breathe love on them all at the same time and don't give them an iota of fear to latch on to. Eventually they quit and go find someone else to harass.

The Fractal Kings and Evil Ones

In the digital fractal worlds are a myriad of beings too numerous to describe. They are fractal devils that must have been humans at some point for they often have a face in the center of their fractal form.

I've seen several hundred, maybe five hundred in total. They look like a rudimentary human faces surrounded by a digital-fractal headdress and/or a partial mask. Some have teeth and they drip blood and some are quite benign.

There is a massive red, yellow and black one thirty foot high in the Vatican stretching from the top of the pews up into the dome. It is very evil and yet very graceful in how it moves in slow-mo' with its tentacle-like arms turning back as forth as it does. I love watching it; it is very intriguing that it is there. I'm so hoping it bites Ratimus Miximus, aka Benny the Rat, aka his revoltingness the Pope, on the bum one day. "We live in 'ope" as London's East Enders might say.

The fractal devils jump into people residing in the area between the navel and the pubic bone, or they are in the upper chest in area of the sternum, Shamans can get them out.

The Succubus and Incubi

These are stunted dwarf-like characters that feed of people sexually, usually at night, they look exactly like the being in the painting by Fuseli, called The Nightmare. They are called in by sexual fantasy and sadomasochism, and extreme sexual practices. I have only ever seen one. We don't know how to force them out, but if you take to celibacy for a while they do drift away eventually.

The Etheric Insects

The etheric insect feed off our energy at night but we don't know what to do to get rid of them. I've seen a hundred or more. There are large black spiders the size of your outstretched fingers and smaller ones the size of a golf ball, then there are red ones and multi-colored ones. There is also a form of flea that looks the size of a cockroach but it flies vertically rather than the way cockroaches run across the ground horizontally. They hover around people's legs, and there are midgets that swarm around our bodies usually at head height that are attracted to the heat.

There is nothing we can do about the etheric insects so we have to suffer them for now. They seem to get worse if you have been in a rough area of a city as the energy of the street people there follows you home and the insects come with it and hover around you.

Inner Matrix Evil

The Inner Matrix as you already know is a band of energy close to the earth plane that contains the collective subconscious of mankind those alive and all those that are already dead. When you lay down to meditate you will see the Inner Matrix as faces that flash in front of you very quickly. That is why I called that band of energy the “flashy faces”.

Sadly it is all pure evil and hatred. Where the good part of the human mind is, is a mystery to us; we believe it moves away to a higher world and what is left behind is the Inner Matrix, which is all the collective evil of our humanity, and also in there are some human entities that are not totally evil but just stuck, hanging about confused. The Inner Matrix is all the souls of human ghouls that are trapped close to us humanity.

They play to your weaknesses and challenge your integrity and resolve, and all you can do is breathe love on them and suffer them. You must never let them get you down, as they will try to take you to a madness that is the same as theirs. Usually the human ghouls of the Inner Matrix speak to you mentally using sentences of four, or more usually, five word bursts. If you remember the former British Prime Minister Tony Blair’s speeches, they were all delivered in the Matrix five-word staccato style. This is evidence of mental abduction from dark forces within.

Eventually you will find the influence of the Inner Matrix wanes but to do that you have to process your shadow as they use that darkness within you to connect to you on an energy level.

Resolution

All evil comes from us originally and it will try to take you to towards madness and suicide and violence and dysfunction. And certainly a shaman can help clear those entities from you but in the end the only way to be rid of them forever is to live a pure life and be kind and take to the eternal Tao as your companion through life. That is the eventual healing for all our humanity and we have to wait patiently while people come around to a new way of thinking. There is no other long-term cure.

With the ghouls of whatever kind always be brave and stand your ground, when you are not scared of them anymore they eventually go find someone else, as they use the fear they generate in humans as a form of excitement and etheric food.

Okay that is more or less what I know, but there would be billions of entities that I have never seen in dimensions I know nothing about, so our body of knowledge will grow as we grow. And eventually we will know even more. It all unfolds bit-by-bit as your perception becomes more acute.

Bye for now...

Stuart
